

UNITED STATES AND CANADA

By SAVOYARD

There is little room to doubt that a day will come when there will be a political union of the United States and Canada, not by absorption, and Champ Clark and everybody else, even the birds at the breakfast table, will have to swallow as did old Polonus—not where we eat, but where we are seated; a certain convocation of political vocals will be even at us. Your vote is your only emperor for life.

Long after all of us are dead and turned to clay, there will be a free nation of the Anglo-Saxon peoples, by that time numbering some 200,000,000 and more, physically, economically, morally, industrially, commercially, and financially, the race will dominate the world, with many seats of power in both hemispheres, from pole to pole. In addition to the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and the United States of America, there will be the confederation of those mighty free states of Canada, South Africa, Australia, New Zealand, and others with English law, English speech, English thought, English literature and all bound together, homogeneous and indivisible.

The beginning of this glorious confederation will be a complete commercial union will be a complete commercial union, and the reciprocity convention negotiated for the two in 1911 is the beginning of that absolute commercial union. There will follow trade reciprocity with the entire British empire, which, after a time, will culminate in the political federation of all peoples who speak the tongue that Shakespeare spoke.

Such alliance will prove resistance and having the strongest sword and the longest purse, it will conquer and maintain the world's peace.

Then other Caucasian peoples will seek to shed the cruel shackles that fetter trade, and they, too, will join the commercial union, and trade will become free throughout Christendom. If universal peace is to be here is the road over which it will pass, and the billions now voted to glut the maw of Moloch will be devoted to the declaration and conservation of the boundless wilderness and trackless jungles of Africa and South America. After some score years of such international port trade, the world's ladder will grow fat and its warlike bucket turn lean. Then in a century or two the prophecy of Isaiah II, 4, will be fulfilled, and man begin to be civilized, and give up himself to the tariff and give your posterity a chance. Look at the republic of America and the united states of the German empire, in each of which nations there is absolute free communities. And there is nothing in our own country that surpasses the material advancement of the German empire since its march provided free trade between its various states.

Suppose this political union between the republic and the Dominion of Canada, so impressively, if not ineffectively, discussed by Champ Clark, should come. What a revolution it would make in our party politics! Every political platform would be a fulsome eulogy of the "right little little state." Every candidate would love the "mother country" and be an Anglo-American from skin to marrow and from marrow to skin. We would have the novel and startling preachment of a certain Yankee of the long ago, "Blood is thicker than water."

"Of course, if marriage between the United States and Canada should be consummated, it will not be an elopement. And Mother England will give her cordial consent and devout blessing, and it would be the most profitable and most auspicious political investment Great Britain ever made, besting the union with Scotland out of sight. Canada would be turned into numerous states of the union, all with senators and representatives in congress and all with votes in the electoral college. Every one of these states would be Anglo-American from hamlet to metropolis, from kneading trough to legislature, from home fireside to church altar a while ago no political platform was finished that did not have an "Irish plank," but that sort of politics would be asked eon in the closet, along with the bloody shirt of "the thirty years' war." With such conditions, who more natural than a hard and fast diplomatic alliance with Great Britain that would soon wax to be political federation?

We narrowly escaped that consummation six years ago, and it was defeated by the inactive wisdom of George Washington and the homely wisdom of Benjamin Franklin. Wedderburn, who never entered upon a forlorn hope, nor threw away the scabbard, if we are to credit "Junius" was the brains of Lord North's administration and he insisted on "throwing in" Canada when the treaty acknowledging our independence was negotiated. He saw as Washington and Franklin

DOUGLAS DAILY BUDGET

DOUGLAS IN PHOENIX BANK.

(Douglas International.)
The Phoenix papers announce that J. S. Douglas of this city, has been elected as a member of the board of directors of the Phoenix National bank and that he has accepted the position. Mr. Douglas goes in as a member of the directorate of this bank, succeeding Hon. F. M. Murphy.

Mr. Douglas is the president of the Bank of Douglas in this city, but is not the manager of the Phoenix-Douglas interests in this city or in Mexico, as stated by the Gazette. Mr. Douglas was formerly at the head of the Phelps-Dodge interests in Mexico, but retired from the position last year and is now devoting his time to his private interests, which are extensive in both Arizona and Sonora.

BASE BALL.
Last night there was a well attended meeting of fans held in the Y. M. C. A. building and the baseball situation became more definitely defined. Ways and means to meet expenses were discussed and to meet the immediate needs it was decided to hold a dance on Saturday night at the ball park pavilion. Later it is hoped the receipts from the games will take care of the team, for it is not intended to hire professional players, but money is needed to make the ball team go as much as to make the dance solve the problem that confronts the management at the outset.

Nothing definite was done last night as to a game with Bisbee on Sunday. Bisbee has a date for that day with Tucson, but it may possibly be cancelled. It was announced that arrangements are pending for return games with Tucson on April 3 and 4 and April 16 and 17.

Street work on Twelfth street, to carry off the storm water from the avenue to the west of G avenue is making excellent progress and two of the four culverts are in. It will undoubtedly be found to have been of great benefit when the summer rains arrive. These culverts will tend to relieve the attention that arises from the surface now between A and F avenues, and which was formerly carried down the latter avenue, but which overflowed into the cross streets south of Twelfth street.

Some work will be necessary on the A avenue storm ditch this spring, although City Engineer Norton says this will not be so extensive as expected. Some cleaning out and grading will have to be done between Tenth and Thirteenth streets and also between Sixth and Eighth streets, but this will be about all. The city engineer, however, says that to properly carry off the storm water it will ultimately be necessary to dig another ditch to run south from the vicinity of the Country club.

Word was brought to the chamber of commerce this morning that a good well has just been brought in on the land in Township 20 in the valley, that belongs to T. F. Mahoney. The well was sunk by W. H. Lawyer and E. D. Harris, and ample water was obtained for irrigation of the Mahoney tract.

This morning it was stated by Mr. Lawyer that he and Mr. Harris would now put down wells for themselves and for W. J. Elliott, and will plant melons, potatoes, sorghum and other crops. Four new wells in the valley will bring under cultivation many more acres this summer.

Deep interest prevails at the special services now in progress at the First Baptist church. Great joy is manifested frequently as new recruits step out to dedicate their lives to God and become the faithful followers of Jesus. Last night after a very excellent solo by Mrs. Steuergast, Steuergast preached a most earnest and effective sermon on "The
